A metaformance by JaiVal - Jaime del Val - Reverso
www.jaiVal.org - www.microsex.org - www.elpredicador.org

JaiVal is an extraterrestrial agent/preacher who is on planet Earth in a secret mission of dissemination of alien affects (microaffects/microsexes).

Amongst the documents revealed by wikileaks the most secret and disturbing is an extraterrestrial top secret transmission intercepted by the CIA, transcribed and published here: <http://version.org/textuals/show/21>. In this transmission the microsex adventures of alien cyborg agent JaiVal, or DelVal, are revealed.

The agent induces affective disalignments amongst humans to give start to metahumankind. An unprecedented Earth Odyssey in 2014.

Microsexes/Microaffects/Microtimes/Microspaces is a laboratory of perception that inverts the millenia long tradition of perceptual alignment (euclidean space, renaissance perspective, ubiquitous cameras) which is at the basis of global surveillance culture, control society and capitalism at large.

Through placing surveillance cameras on the skin, looking at the skin, while the voice is electronically processed live, the body moves through a new mode of selfperception induced by the amorphous bodylandscapes "seen" by the cameras and projected on walls, and the amorphous soundscape of the spatialised electronically processed voice. The eyes are no longer in the face, they disseminate on the skin. Vision has no longer a fixed framing, fixity, focus or dittance, it has become haptic, tactile, amorphous. The perceptual framework of the dualistic cartesian subject falls apart. Platonic transcendence of forms dissolves in permanent amorphogenesis. Surveillance collapses in the realm of the amorphous.

Hovering on the frontier of the intelligible, this metaformance fosters intimate one-to-one encounters where the participant experiences herself this transformation of perception in which morphology, identity, and fixed meaning disseminate in endless incipient potentials, microsexes, opening to the realm of the unspeakable: a thousand postintimate affects and posthuman sexes emerge in a thousand non linear modes of temporality and spatiality, the body becomes an emergent nonhuman species, a body of microperceptions.
